The standards the instructor set for me were:

How many hours per week did you usually spend working on this course outside of classroom time?

Comments

What did you like best about how the course was taught?

Comments
I liked how the course incorporated online games that helped introduce material
Material was very straightforward and presented in straightforward manner.
I liked how she went over everything and used a packet for us to take notes in. It kept everything organized and covered all of the topics.
Very interesting set up with experiments
Easy to follow lectures
I like the handouts that we could fill the notes in.
I liked the homework format.
That is was not hard to follow
It's a lot of time in class for one period of time, but the last 5 weeks have gone by fast.

If you were teaching this course, what would you do differently?

Comments
Possibly, use a little less note taking
Upload the lecture notes from the book to CourseWeb
Maybe print double sided in the packets and post all of the notes online.
More practice work less theory?
Don't say that the class is boring because that doesn't make it more interesting. Try to make it interesting and act interested in it yourself, because that would make it seem more like something worth paying attention to. Stop apologizing for it being a boring class.
I would have the notes pre-prepared in a powerpoint or something like that, so that you do not have to write and draw everything on the board.

its boring to just sit in one spot for 5 hours, try to get us more engaged with exciting presentations
Not sure
